

ANOTHER FULL REGIMENT IS TO COME

General Bliss Brings News of a Big Addition to Troops for This Island.

GO TO SCHOFIELD BARRACKS

Generals Up to Ears in Work—Closing Dowsett Ranch Land Matter.

(From Thursday's Advertiser.) Schofield Barracks, the cavalry post at Lihou, is to receive a full regiment of infantry in January or February. The troops will be ordered from the mainland for duty on this island. No orders have been received yet to erect temporary quarters and barracks for the officers and enlisted men of the coming regiment, but, as these can be put up in thirty days or less, instructions may not reach the commanding officer of the district until next month.

With the arrival of the new regiment the original cavalry camp will become a brigade post which will change its status to some extent. The entire Fifth Cavalry is now stationed there, and this month or next a battery of the First Field Artillery will be assigned to duty at the same post, making a total of about 1300 men to be mobilized in the one cantonment.

This information came with General Tasker N. Bliss, commanding the department of California, who arrived on the Mongolia on Tuesday, and was confirmed yesterday by Colonel Schuyler, temporary commander of the district of Hawaii.

Colonel Schuyler has had no information as to what regiment will come to the islands. It is certain, however, that the war department will not designate the 25th regiment, which is composed of colored men, for this station.

Looking Over Dowsett Leases.

Generals Bliss and Aleshire, the latter the quartermaster-general of the Army, Colonel Schuyler and Captain Eakin, constructing quartermaster, returned from Schofield Barracks yesterday on the one-trip train, and immediately held a conference at the Hawaiian Trust Company's offices with the Dowsett Ranch representatives, relative to three thousand acres of land which the government requires for its extensive army expansion work. The Dowsett company has a long lease on most of the Lihou plain, and negotiations have been under way for some time to acquire at least three thousand acres of the land. When the war department determined upon placing the Fifth Cavalry on the Lihou reservation a friendly agreement was entered into with the Dowsett company to take over a portion of its pasture lands and convert the same into a site for the cavalry cantonment. The quarters and stables were erected in a few weeks after instructions were received here.

While Generals Bliss and Aleshire are here it is probable that all negotiations which have been under way to acquire this property will be settled and the war department will be free to carry on its work unhampered by leasehold property lines.

Many More Troops to Come.

In addition to the infantry regiment more troops may be ordered here in the spring, including at least two more companies of coast artillery, probably two more batteries of field artillery, and a section of the signal corps. Those ordered to Lihou will be housed in temporary cantonments.

Colonel Schuyler, as a member of the local army board, has recommended that additions be made to the local garrisons, and the field artillery and regiment of infantry are part of the additions determined upon by the war department. The same board recommended that additions be made to the force at Fort Shafter, now only a battalion post, with permanent buildings to house the troops. As far as the colonel knows at present, no additions will be sent to Shafter for some time. In all likelihood the war department will build additional permanent quarters to fill the post out to regiment size before ordering two more battalions there for duty. As the tour of duty of the Twentieth Infantry in the Philippines will be finished next summer and the regiment ordered home, probably no changes at Shafter will be made until the new regiment exchanges with the Twentieth. One battalion of the Twentieth is at Shafter. The Fifteenth Infantry is scheduled to exchange with the Twentieth.

Macomb Will Select Quarters.

Colonel Schuyler plans to leave Honolulu for Washington in December. He goes East for duty with the general staff, in charge of the cavalry section. Colonel Macomb will be promoted shortly to a brigadier-generalship, and in January will arrive here as commander of the new army district of Hawaii. Meanwhile Colonel Schuyler will continue to maintain his headquarters at Schofield Barracks, and when General Macomb arrives he will have a free hand to select his own headquarters in this city. There is no likelihood that the army will build its own headquarters for some time, and will have to be content with rented offices.

Visited Both Sites.

After coming ashore from the Mongolia on Tuesday, Generals Bliss and Aleshire accompanied Colonel Schuyler, Major Winlow and Captain Phil to the depot quartermaster's office and

FRIENDLY GUNS WELCOME CRUISERS

Admiral Yashiro Brings Famous Ships to Help Celebrate the Emperor's Birthday.

(From Thursday's Advertiser.) Saluted by the American guns of the Honolulu naval station, the cruisers Asama and Kasagi of His Imperial Japanese Majesty's navy arrived in port yesterday morning from the Yokosuka navy yard, Japan, and were accorded berths at the naval wharves. These two historic sea fighters which brought renown to Japan in her recent conflict with Russia looked the part for which they were built as they entered the channel from the open sea, for it was then that their batteries belched salutes to the American ensign and the flag of Rear-Admiral Rees, the naval commandant.

Shortly after entering the harbor the Asama was boarded by the reception committee, composed of Consul-General Uyeno, Messrs. Y. Akai, manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank; N. Moto-shige, president of the Japan Merchants Association, and Dr. K. Haida. A delegation of Japanese officials, business and professional men, called immediately after port formalities to pay their respects to Admiral Yashiro, who is in command of the squadron.

Shore leave was granted to members of the crew shortly after noon, the men scattering about the city in detachments, a noncommissioned officer in charge of each squad.

The members of the crew manifest great interest in the city and environments, and in spite of the continued rain yesterday, were in almost every part of town, equipped for wet weather with rubber coats and sea boots, and for guidance with small maps of Honolulu.

Yesterday morning at ten o'clock Admiral Yashiro and staff, accompanied by Consul Uyeno, called upon Governor Freat at the executive building, the Governor returning the call on the cruiser Asama at two o'clock. Admiral Yashiro will be at home on board the Asama this afternoon from three to five-thirty o'clock, in honor of the Emperor's birthday. Invitations were issued yesterday. This morning Admiral Yashiro and his officers, including the cadets from both ships, will attend the reception at the consulate. Captain Berger's band will furnish music for the occasion.

Special Train to Wahiawa. A special train will leave town tomorrow morning at eight o'clock bearing a large number of cadets and officers of the squadron to Wahiawa pineapple fields, where they will be shown the fields prospering under hula management as well as those which are directed by Japanese capital. On the return to the city they will stop off at Moanalua, to inspect Hon. S. M. Damon's beautiful country estate and to take part in a picnic luncheon arranged for them.

SAM JOHNSON HAS NOT BEEN SENT FOR

Denial was made at Republican headquarters yesterday that Col. Sam Johnson has been sent for to help out in the local campaign, as alleged in a Democratic poster sheet. Colonel Johnson is expected to remain on Hawaii where they have some politics to attend to as well as here.

Afterwards inspected the Fort street site for the proposed quartermaster's building. They went by automobiles to Schofield Barracks, where they were received with honors. The two generals are working generals, however, and they immediately asked to be shown over the Lihou reservation. The two sites for the permanent brigade post were inspected, and then a visit was paid to the Koolau range, where one source of water supply is located, and then visited the water source on the Kaala side of the reservation, back of the present cantonment. They went over the pineapple fields and much of the Dowsett estate leaseholds, spending the best part of the day going over the reservation.

It was fortunate they did so, for yesterday morning rain descended upon the reservation in floods. Rivers formed where dry gullies existed before; the cantonment became a little Venice, and mud was everywhere. The auto trip back to town had to be abandoned, and the officers returned by train.

Discussing Fort Shafter.

They returned on the five-fifteen train yesterday afternoon, and will devote much of their time today going over maps of the various military reservations, and may complete their investigations of the site problem, which appears to have been a vexatious one so far with all previous inspecting officers. A map of Fort Shafter was sent out to the post last night, and this will be given considerable attention.

The Fort Shafter recommendations, made some time ago, include utilizing the plateau adjacent to the present post for the additional buildings. The two plateaus are separated by a deep and wide gulch. The outcropped plateau is large enough for the construction of barracks, quarters and general buildings for two battalions.

WORLD-FAMOUS WAR CORRESPONDENT DEAD

THE LATE MELTON PRYOR.

LONDON, November 2.—Melton Pryor, the widely-known war correspondent, died here today. Among the many war correspondents probably none was better known than Melton Pryor, who was an artist as well as a writer.

No man had seen more bloodshed than he. He had a record of war service and an array of decorations that many a general might envy. His first experience of war, gained in West Africa, was followed by service in Spain during the Carlist insurrection, and this by the Herzegovinian fighting against the Turks. Then came the Serbian and Turko-Russian campaigns, the Kafir, Basuto, Zulu and Boer wars, the Egyptian campaign of 1882, El Teb and Tannu, Wolseley's relief expedition up the Nile and across the Bayuda desert, and Burmah. Then the Venezuelan, Brazilian and Argentine insurrections, the Jameson Raid, the Matabele and Afridi wars, service on the Northwest frontier of India, the Cretan insurrection, the siege of Ladysmith, in 1903, the expedition to Somaliland; and in more recent times the Russo-Japanese war.

DEMOCRATS ADMIT FACT THAT KUHIO WILL CARRY BIG ISLAND

(Special Wireless to The Advertiser.)

HILLO, November 2.—From authoritative Democratic circles it is learned that Kuhio is safe, by a small majority, on West Hawaii where he was beaten two years ago by McCandless. This is due to the Prince's action in getting the Waiohine lands for home-estates.

My Democratic informant admits Kuhio will carry the whole island but believes by a smaller majority than at the last election. The only remaining hope of his defeat remains in the chance that, if when addressing the Hawaiians, the Delegate should lose his temper as he is sometimes apt to do. The contest for Delegate will be decided on East Hawaii, as was the case in 1908. Then it was to give him a majority to overcome the loss in West Hawaii, while this year it will be to prevent a loss on this side that can not be overcome by the majority on East Hawaii. HUCKLAND.

ANOTHER OPIUM SEIZURE MADE

Trunkful of Contraband Dope is Again Discovered in Express Office.

Yesterday's investigation into the opium smuggling, so auspiciously commenced at the beginning of the week, resulted in the seizure, early in the evening, of twenty-seven more tins of unstamped opium. For the second time the haul was made in the express office. Officials are more reticent about this discovery than even the others, the details of which were given no undue publicity. The tip which led to the seizure of the second trunk with its contraband contents was derived by United States District Attorney Brockton from his investigation of Domingo, but this time the trunk has no further connection with the smuggling operations of that enterprising young gentleman.

This second trunk was an arrival on the Mongolia, its owner being still free of the clutches of the federal officials conducting the opium investigations. The man who brought or had sent here this trunk is now supposed to be one of Ferreira's running mates on the steamers, and engaged with him along the same lines.

The man is a Portuguese, but little besides this would be given out last night. The market price of stamped opium two days ago was $50 a tin, and while there was a rumor to the effect that contraband opium had fallen in price owing to the risk in holding it, a compromise estimate, setting it at $40, would make the value of last night's seizure about $1100.

Anna Schilling, the Austrian woman who was taken into custody on the strength of some of Ferreira's statements, was released yesterday, and is said to have no longer any connection with the case.

SILVER SUPPLY IS EMIGRATING NOW

A horrible calamity appears to have overtaken the community in its greatest need. The city is short of that which makes the mare and eke the mayor go. Its silver supply is vanishing, no one knows whether or why. It is just naturally going.

Honolulu never was quite so short in small change before and if the shortage continues Treasurer Conkling and the other financial gentlemen who are supposed to regulate our currency are going to place us on a silver standard and use the gold for paying Fort Street. Various theories are advanced. The politicians receive most of the odium on the supposition that they have the silver market cornered in expectation of November 8, when they will need the coin of the realm in small pieces and plenty of it.

Another theory is that all the small change has gone into sugar stocks and maybe the Japanese are trading it out of the country. Then again Melville has put the kibosh on the joke gambler and that shaming individual no longer has a chance to keep it moving. Whatever is the matter with it the fact is that there is no "chickens feed" around here, a condition which sometimes causes trouble.

KAHU SANDS ARE BEING MADE HOT

Aspirants for Red Fezzes to Parade With Mystic Shriners on November 19.

Oahu's hot sands are being superheated in preparation for the annual chase of novice over the blistering surface by fez-topped Shriners of Aloha Temple. The sands will be heated to white heat and on November 19, which is Saturday, the novices will be turned loose and the Shriners will make them run the gamut.

It is to be a great day—not only for the novices but for their tormentors. The novices know a little of what is in store for them, but not all. Not if the Shriners know it, for they have a few things up their sleeves and in the anterooms which the novices never dreamed of. Some of it is apparatus and some of it is pure imagination, but it will all serve to put the fear of the imperial potentate in their breasts. Some of the Shriners who will do the tormenting are men who passed their novitiate about a year ago, an occasion which they remember as a red letter day in their careers, for they were handed some hot things that were the real article. Since that memorable day their brain cups have been working overtime planning new, novel and ingenious tortures for the next bunch.

On that great day of November 19 the Nobles of Aloha Temple and all visiting nobles from far away oases will assemble in tuxedos and fezzes, and immaculate white short fronts. The imperial potentate and all the other officials in their strange and garish Arabian garb will be on hand. The fierce Arab patrol with lances will be on hand. The word "fierce" is used advisedly, meaning haughty-looking not punk appearing. The camels and elephants and many other weird animals will be assembled and then headed by Berger's Hawaiian band and backed up by some of Honolulu's big cops the entire aggregation will parade the streets, pose for their pictures on the front steps of the executive building, and then proceed to the K. of P. hall where the unfortunate novices will be put through a few stunts. The novices will appear in the parade, guarded by scimitar-wielding Shriners and will be made to do some funny stunts on the streets. It is rumored that one of the novices will be made to think he is one of the Wright brothers and soar (or sore) aloft in an air scudder.

Oh, it's going to be a great day—for somebody.

STRIKE QUICKLY PAU AT PAHOA MILL

(Special to The Advertiser.)

HILLO, November 2.—An incipient strike took place at Pahoa Lumber Mills last week when half a hundred donkey men wanted an advance in wages above the $1.25 a day they were receiving. A Hilo interpreter advised the men to stand by their jobs and they did so, with the exception of a few who had caused the trouble and who were promptly fired.

NOW BROWNE'S ATTORNEY IS UNDER FIRE

CHICAGO, November 3.—Charles Erbshtein, who was counsel for Lee O'Neil Browne, recently tried on a charge of bribing members of the Illinois legislature to bring about the election of United States Senator Lorimer, was yesterday indicted by the grand jury on a charge of bribery. The charge is that he bribed members of the trial jury in Browne's favor and thereby secured the acquittal of his client.

The first trial of Browne resulted in a hung jury; the second jury found him not guilty. It was openly charged in the Chicago press that the jury had been tampered with in both cases, while the first jury drawn was discharged by the trial judge on account of the open talk of it having been "fixed."

SECRET SERVICE MADE A BLUNDER

Supposed Nicaraguan Counterfeiter Was an Agent of President Estrada, as Claimed.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Nov. 3.—President Estrada has asked the American representative here to seek the release of H. N. Secrest, arrested on October 29 in Chicago, charged with counterfeiting Nicaraguan five peso notes. President Estrada explains that Secrest was engaged in a legitimate transaction with the Guarantee Engraving Company, acting under orders received by him from the revolutionary party prior to the flight of former President Madrid. Secrest was arrested in a raid by Captain Porter of the United States Secret Service, three hundred thousand dollars worth of Nicaraguan notes being seized. George B. Williams, president of the company, doing the note printing, was arrested, although he explained that Secrest was acting under orders of the Nicaraguan government, and R. T. Trumbull, president of the engraving company, was also arrested, both charged as accomplices in the supposed counterfeiting.

Secrest is a planter of Tampico, Mexico, and had advanced large sums to the Nicaraguan revolutionists. Trumbull and Williams were released on bail, but Secrest was unable to furnish the $10,000 required for his own release.

GRAND JURY AGAIN UP AGAINST SNAG

The grand jury yesterday resumed its investigation of the police court murder and again subpoenaed Henry Clark, the indicted embezzler, to appear as witness. According to report the investigation came to an abrupt end, however, when Clark again refused to answer the questions and the matter is as far from solution as ever. Clark will probably be cited to appear now to show cause why he should not be punished for a contempt of court and another legal battle will be fought to prevent his testimony from being entered before the grand jury.

THEY ARE TOO BUSY FOR BUSINESS

HILLO, October 31.—It has been arranged that the regular monthly meeting of the board of supervisors will not be held this week, an adjournment being agreed upon till November 15 so that supervisors may attend to their campaign duties and not be away from their political commitments at this critical financial period.

M'KINLEY TELLS TAFT NOT TO WORRY

Republicans Certain to Hold the Majority in Next House of Representatives.

REVIEWS THE WHOLE FIELD

Finds No Justification of the Claims Being Made by the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, November 3.—Representative William B. McKinley, chairman of the Republican national campaign committee, after hearing reports from every State in the Union, comparing estimates submitted by various prominent party workers and going over a great deal of the ground himself, yesterday sent a reassuring letter to the President, stating that there is no probability of the Democrats making sufficient gains in next Tuesday's election to secure control of the house of representatives or to make any substantial gains against the Republican majority.

For the past several weeks the Democrats have been claiming gains in strength in many of the doubtful States, and the Democratic press has been forecasting a Democratic majority in the next house.

The Republican majority in the present house of representatives is forty-one, a party division showing two hundred and seventeen Republicans to one hundred and seventy-four Democrats.

Democratic forecasts, recently issued, give one hundred and sixty-one seats to themselves to one hundred and forty to the Republicans, leaving ninety seats as doubtful.

These figures Chairman McKinley dubs as unwarranted and absurd, predicting a majority for the Republicans about equal to that of the present house.

SPAIN AS YET HAS NO REVOLUTION

Government Prepared to Act Should Republicans Commit Overt Acts Against Crown.

MADRID, Spain, November 2.—Rumors of uprisings here were unfounded, and denials of impending revolution have been sent out. At the same time, the gravity of the situation is recognized by all.

CANALEJAS READY FOR STERN ACTION

(Correspondent New York Herald.) MADRID, October 18.—I have just seen Senor Canalejas, the premier, who says a respectable minority of Spaniards entertain republican ideas and have received with joy the proclamation of a republic in Portugal.

"This is but natural," he continued. "Since this government is a liberal one I have no idea of preventing republican enthusiasm provided it is kept within lawful limits and does not involve threats against the existing monarchical regime in Spain. The republicans being in a minority here I do not entertain the slightest apprehension that the events in Portugal can cause a similar consequence in Spain. At the present moment the only place which causes me some concern is Barcelona, on account of the celebration of the international congress of free thinkers."

"The agitation is directed from abroad, the main centers being at Brussels and Rome. At Brussels Mons. Laurent, a lawyer of great intellectual capacity, attorney for Ferrer's heirs, is wrongly helping to provoke agitations. Other directing centers, though less important, are Paris and London. Anarchists from all the American countries are coming also and are having an important hand in the affair."

"I have made known to the promoters of the congress that if their meetings are held within their houses and if their remarks are merely general in character I will allow them, but I will punish energetically any remarks against the monarchy."

NEWSPAPER GAS BAG AFTER RECORD

LONDON, November 3.—The Daily Graphic balloon, the largest ever built in England, started yesterday in an attempt to beat the long-distance and endurance record established last month by the balloon America, one of the contestants in the St. Louis race.

AVIATOR GOING TO DO SOMETHING NEW

NEW YORK, November 3.—Aviator McCurdy is preparing for something new in the way of aviation, having under way preparations for an over-water flight, with a start from the deck of a vessel at sea. He will attempt the flight on Saturday, leaving the steamer when she is fifty miles from shore. His flight will reach before the grandstand at Belmont Park, where the international aviation meet is being held.
